Attorney Malpractice - What You Need to Know Before You Practice (or Tales of Greed, Fear, and Loathing)

October 18, 2006

12:15 - 1:15

Room 100

David Lefkowitz, an accomplished Atlanta legal malpractice attorney, shares his stories and insights into how best avoid the mistake that could end your career. Come hear him speak about real world problems and solutions that face new attorneys, common attorney-client conflicts, and best practices when attorneys disagree about their client's best interests.

David Lefkowitz graduated from Columbia University in 1985 and from the Emory University School of Law in 1988. Mr. Lefkowitz frequently is an invited speaker at continuing legal education seminars on the topics of legal malpractice, ethics and professionalism. Mr. Lefkowitz also has written articles for legal publications on the topics of legal malpractice and legal ethics. David Lefkowitz carries the highest rating from Martindale-Hubble (AV) which is given only to those attorneys with the highest legal ability and very high adherence to professional standards of conduct, ethics, reliability and diligence.
